AREA NON-PROFIT ANNOUNCES NEW CAREER COUNSELING PROGRAM

The Education & Life Training Center, a non-profit that teaches adults skills in the computer, medical, and literacy fields, announced Tuesday that it has engaged Regina Hopkins, (M.Ed.), to create and oversee a new Transitions Counseling Program to give students additional support and guidance to find the right job.

Services offered include clarifying career goals, mock interviews, writing résumés and cover letters, personality testing, and identifying which jobs best fit with a student's personality type. The Transitions Counseling Program is now part of each student's educational experience at ELTC. "This was a missing component in supporting the overall success of our students. As part of the program, ELTC will begin to develop partnerships with local businesses for placement, internship, and job shadowing opportunities for those interested."

ELTC is an adult learning center offering employment skills training in the areas of computer, medical office and language & literacy.
